

Come join us in San Miguel de Allende for Spring Break 2010!

For one week, from March 22-28, 2010, you can live the high life in the charming colonial city of San Miguel de Allende in the high desert plains of Mexico! San Miguel was recently made a World Heritage site and when you come here, you'll see why!

During this fabulous week-long event, you'll be housed in a private home, visit magnificent homes and haciendas, and participate in events that are just not available to the average visitor. Proceeds from Spring Break benefit San Miguel's oldest charity, Patronato Pro Niños, which provides medical and dental care to needy children.

The Spring Break Package includes:

- Transportation to and from the Leon (BJX) airport,
- Transportation to and from all sponsored events,
- Gracious accommodations in a private home,
- Breakfast each morning provided by your hosts,
- Fabulous luncheons or dinners each day sometimes both
- Wonderful parties and events each day,
- Fascinating guided excursions to nearby cities and sites.
- Cultural and historical lectures prepared just for your interests.
- A Mexican cuisine cooking class.
- Private showings of artists and jewelers not open to the public.
- World class shopping for one-of-a-kind items, and
- A US-based tax deduction for the cost of the whole trip!

About San Miguel de Allende: Founded in the 16th century by Franciscan priests, San Miguel de Allende is a beautiful colonial town located in the high desert plains of central Mexico. For decades San Miguel has attracted people from around the world. Its extraordinary beauty and light, along with its clear mountain air, has made it a gathering place for artists, writers, and anyone who wants to live "the good life." Now designated as a World Heritage site, the city is a thriving colonial city based on its Mexican heritage and enriched with contributions from its newer residents and continuous stream of visitors.

Costs & Payments: The cost of this fun-filled week is $2,800, exclusive of airfare. (FTC International is our US-based 501(c)3 funding arm. To receive a tax deduction you should make your check payable to FTC International.)