2011 Fall Gardening School

Saturday, October 22, 2011

Fall is the best time to plant trees, shrubs and perennials. Learn from the experts what, how and when to plant to ensure success with your landscape endeavors. This fun and information-packed day will feature horticulturists Hank Bruno, former Director of Horticulture at Daniel Stowe Botanical Garden, and Mildred Pinnell Fockele, Horticulture Director of the Atlanta Botanical Garden. We'll even have a "how-to" demo for novice gardeners and an afternoon Q&A session to address your pressing gardening questions.

Fee: $55

Nature Naturally® Outdoor Weekend

November 11-13, 2011

Do you enjoy nature but wish for something more than a simple walk in the woods? Join us for a family-friendly weekend of outdoor activities and learn how to enjoy Nature Naturally® at Callaway Gardens! Here's your chance to try something new and different – or just give yourself time to enjoy some outdoor activities that are on your list of favorites. Nature Naturally Outdoor Weekend includes a trip through our new TreeTop Adventure; a walk with one of Callaway's Birds of Prey; a round of Light Striker Laser Tag; canoeing, kayaking or bicycling; a high-tech geocaching scavenger hunt; and a guided stargazing outing.

Registration

Enrollment for these events is limited and preregistration is required. For rates and registration, please contact the Reservations Department at 1.800.CALLAWAY (225.5292).
